I approach my view of David Rosenthal from a different perspective, as I'm a trial attorney and David was the primary contact for my client. David continuously went above and beyond what is normally expected because he wanted to ensure that we could present a complete picture to the judge. He repeatedly reviewed dozens of emails stretching back years, brainstormed on litigation strategy, and put in time on nights and weekends until he had complete mastery of the factual timeline. As a result, when he testified, he was able to answer all questions put to him, and opposing counsel could not fluster, confuse, or distract David. Due in large part to David's efforts on the case, the judge ruled in our favor at trial.

Aside from being a fine person, David is a true advocate for his client. His work ethic helped make my job easier.

Sincerely,

Dan K.
